Rise from the ashes and . . . fly, again!

CYW-500 Necklace in Box

In Greek mythology, the phoenix is a bird that sets itself afire, dying in a show of flames. Within days, the phoenix rises from the ashes, refreshed and invigorated, to once again soar the skies.

Thus, the phoenix has become a symbol of renewal.

There is no maximum number of mistakes or times we are allowed to start over.

It is never impossible, it is never too late to, as the phoenix,

Western Stirrups & Saddle

Leadership comes from building trust and demonstrating that you will do what is right for everyone.

Lead horses, just like humans, must gain respect and trust in order to provide protection and safety.

Once that trust is established, an entire herd can be moved

Horseshoes

The horse's foot is a biomechanical marvel with many parts.

This necklace of four cascading horseshoes acknowledges and honours the fact that our equine friends require four legs, four hooves, and for some, four shoes made of steel to support their loving hearts!*

Arabian Horse

First, combine the swiftness of a gazelle, the loyalty of a dog, the curiosity of a cat, and the flightiness of a butterfly.

Then, stir in a lot of intelligence, two pinches of hot temperament and add a heart of solid gold.

Season with a proud, graceful nature and

Cardinal

Cardinal birds symbolize positivity amidst any troubles we may be experiencing. Old folklore states that sighting a cardinal means you have a visitor from beyond to offer you peace, comfort and security. There is a quote about this belief that goes, "Cardinals appear *when angels . . .

are near!"*

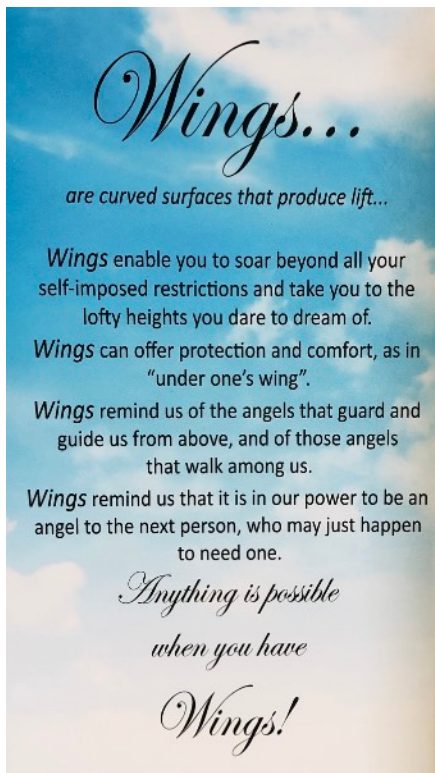

Hot Air Balloon

What makes Albuquerque the hot-air-ballooning capital of the world? Statistics report it's the optimal weather conditions, stunning landscape and plenty of open spaces.

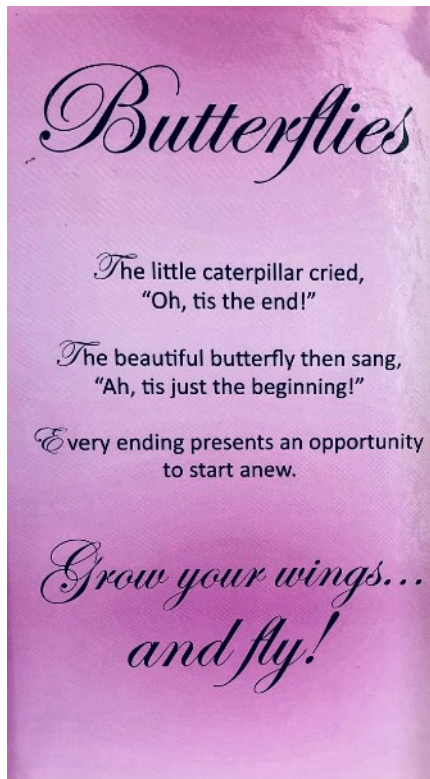

But we suspect visitors come back year after year to sample the chile, to hike the Sandias, revere the Petroglyphs, receive the warmth of New Mexicans, experience the unique culture, to bask in the desert sun, gaze at the day and nighttime skies . . . and so much more.

*Come for the balloons, and stay for . . .
the love!*
